LOUIS J. STELLMAN

To an average reader of American newspapers, the acquittal of Russian Naval Lieutenant Nicolai G. Redin of espionage and conspiracy may have seemed just another item in the hodge podge of troubled world affairs; not even an important one, for he was charged with trying to obtain no top military secret but merely the construction detail of a minor naval vessel. Apparently someone offered to sell him this information for $250—which is chicken feed in Spyland—and claims he received the cash. Redin denies it, and, since marked money was not involved and no reputable witness observed the alleged transaction, there is a fair chance he told the truth, as twelve talesmen decided.

But the fact that Redin, agent of a suspect nation during a period of spy-hunts, received the fairest of trials and was promptly exonerated by an average American jury, may have done something for better relations between Russia and The United States which top notch diplomacy and U.N. have failed to achieve. It proved to a nervous young man accused of a serious crime in a foreign and rather unfriendly land, that he had the same chance as any American bootblack or socialist millionaire, to be weighed in the balance of honest evidence and dealt with according to abstract, impersonal justice. So great was his surprise that it overcame all the stilted decorum of his military training, his carefully inculcated distrust of The Capitalistic System and other assorted prejudices. He thanked the court and jury with a spontaneity of emotion which had all the earmarks of sincerity. His lawyers declare he has returned to Moscow with an unshakable conviction that Americans are his friends and desire to live in peace with his country. He has learned that Democracy works.

Evidently to counteract in advance any belief that Lieutenant Redin may express upon his return to Russia concerning fair play in American courts and the good will of American people, Mr. Stalin's journalistic mouthpiece has already begun to froth at the mouth. Calling the Redin trial a resort to "forgery, provocation and perjury, a Pravda writer indulges in such crude and undisciplined invective as "Black deed of the American Secret Police," "conspiracy of police and bandits," "filthy conspiracy," and similar terms which become amusing and self-defeating through their ungoverned fury anl complete disregard of fact. Heaven only knows what Pravda would have charged if Redin had been guilty and we had found him so. We can only hope that in spite of the opera bouffe fulminations of The Kremlin, those great and solid masses which form the sentiment and, in the end, the destiny, of all great nations may unite Russian and American people in an understanding, sympathetic tolerance of each other's variant but not inadjustable ideologies. Once this is accomplished, even in some small part, their united progress toward a lasting peace will have begun. It is possible that Redin's case may yet prove an entering wedge.

HOSPITAL EXPANSION SET AT PALO ALTO

Palo Alto City Council last night authorized expenditures of $7,000 for surveys anl plans for expansion of Palo Alto Hospital.

The Council designated $3,000 for employment of Birge M. Clark as architect to draw preliminary plans, and $4,000 for a survey of hospital conditions conducted by James Hamilton, hospital consultant.

"It Pays To Help Prevent Fires"

Downtown Buildings To Be Revamped For Office Space

Among the real estate sales made recently in Menlo Park which will be of interest to Menloites is the former M. F. Duff residence on the corner of Roble and El Camino, owned by Dr. Lawrence Cook. It was sold to Richard F. Holt of Menlo Park and according to revenue stamps the price was $26,000.

The Duff house was built in 1898-99 by Peter Quinn and the architect was J. I. Delvin, who designed the plans for St. Patrick's Seminary, built the same year. The records show that Bear Gulch Water Company piped water service to the property in the year 1876. The house was constructed of the finest and most durable materials and has stood the test of time.

The building is now undergoing complete remodeling. It is being painted inside and out and repadpered throughout. The beautiful interior woodwork and front and back staircases will be left with the original finish. Fireplaces upstairs and down will be left intact. A new roof will be put on and the house will be completely rewired and central heating installed.

The stable in the rear of the property will also be remodeled and used by a contractor as a place of business.

The house, when completed, will be used as an office building with every modern improvement. Offices will also occupy the huge basement. The grounds will be landscaped.

The Dick Wright company will control and manage the property and will move from its present location to ffices in the remodeled building.

Besides the Dick Wright Company, office suites have already been taken by Ross Chamberlain, Ltd., and the local Selective Service Board which will move from its present location on or around August 1. The remainder f the space will not be leased or rented until the remodeling is complete.

Of equal importance is the news of the sale of the building on the corner of El Camino and Santa Cruz Avenue, the street floor which is occupied by the Menlo Park Hardware. The property was sold by the owner, J. B. Mirande of Redwood City with the title now being held by the Doxsee Company for a reported price of $75,000.

The third sale was that of the Mott Union Oil Service Station across from Central school which was sold by Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Mott to the Doxsee company. The price given was $65,000. Mr. Mott will continue to operate the business.

It is understood that the apartments over the hardware store on El Camino and Santa Cruz will be converted into attractive and modern office suites for professional men.

The real estate transactions were hanlled through the office of Dick Wright and Company, Menlo Park Realtors.

Park Theatre Nears Completion

In process of construction and rapidly nearing completion, is the "Park," Menlo Park's new motion picture theatre. Unless some unforseen set-back occurs, the building will be opened to the public sometime in the middle of November.

Roberts & Moore are the builders and the architect is O. A. Deichmann. The new theatre, which is designed on modernistic lines, will be the last word in beauty, comfort and safety. When finished, it will have cost approximately $150,000, $10,000 of which was spent on the marquee alone. There will be 800 seats, so arranged, that each patron will have an unobstructed view of the screen.

There will also be a lodge section with two hundred comfortable seats.

The building is of re-enforced concrete and steel; air-conditioned and insulated throughout, insuring warmth in winter and freedom from heat in summer. It will also be mouse and rat proof.

The furnace room is separated from the main building, which lessens fire hazzard and exit doors are so placed as to facilitate emptying the theatre quickly, in any emergency.

The roof construction is a radical change from the usual, being semi-circular and along the side walls masonary buttresses have been built.

The interior will be lighted with indirect amber neon lights.

The projection room, one of the finest on the peninsula will have installed, the latest in modern equipment and the only film shoot in northern California.

A San Francisco artist, who has decorated several of that city's finest theatres is now working on designs for the decoration of the walls and ceiling of the "Park."

The foyer will extend across the front of the theatre. It will be lighted with softly colored lights and the carpets will be rich, deep pile, both in the foyer and side-aisles.

Off the foyer will be a dresisng and powder room for women and a dressing room for men.

Candy and popcorn machines will be discarded and a modern candy bar with a girl in attendance will be installed.

Parking space for automobiles will be available in a lot on the north side and in space back of the theatre and the management is making plans to secure extra parking space for the convenience of patrons.

The "Menlo" and "Mayfield" and the new "Park" theatres are owned by Al Laurice and his business associates of San Francisco and East Bay Cities.

When the "Park" is completed it will be one of the most beautiful theatres on the peninsula.

City Rent Control Ordinance Ready If Other Legislation Fails

An ordinance to limit the amount a landlord could raise rent in the city of Menlo Park which was introduced at the city council meeting July 9 and was to have been adopted Tuesday night, was pigeonholed until next Tuesday pending the outcome of state or federal rent control legislation.

The ordinance, if adopted, will allow an increase of 20 percent over the former OPA ceiling.

Ed Quayle appeared before the council and advised them not to interfere with rent control, that it was not a matter within their jurisdiction.

Mayor Charles Burgess said that while he was in favor of doing without OPA, he felt that something should be done to protect tenants against exhorbitant rent and possible eviction.

No protests, oral or written, were received in connection with the annexation of a portion of University Park so the council proceeded to introduce an ordinance whereby the 16 lots located between Vine Street and Santa Cruz will become a part of the city.

Max Mielke, street superintendent of streets, was given an additional duty, that of superintending the city's parks. The new position will pay $25 a month, effective July 1. His duties shall be determined by the council.

In accordance with the new state law which allows the salaries of paid city officials to be raised during the term of office, the city clerk will receive a $25 monthly increase and the treasurer $10.

A noisy fan at the Delno Ice Co. at 620 El Camino was cause for a petition bearing signatures of 23 residents in the nearby area to be directed to the city council for action. The petntion stated that the noise "constitutes a public nuisance." The matter was referred to Wallace Brown, commissioner of health and lights.

The weed abatement report for 1946 received no protests and was adopted. The figure of $1,641.27, the total assessment necessary for the project, will be sent to the county controlled to be placed on the tax roll.

Audited bills were ordered paid and the 45-minute meeting adjourned until Tuesday, July 30, 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Don't Say We Didn't Warn You

Police Chief, Jack Yount, issues a final warning regarding the licensing of dogs in Menlo Park.

August 1 is the dead-line for securing licenses, after that date, all dogs will be impounded if their owners have not gotten licenses for them. The charge is $2.00 for males and neuters and $3.00 for females.

Menlo Lights Are Popular

Bud Sprunger and Red Morton of Redwood City are trying to arrange a North-South all start baseball game between the pick of the Peninsula League against the San Jose all stars.

This group consists of boys under 18 years of age and the North enders, beaten in an early season game sponsored by the Peninsula Newspapers, known as the Esquire tourney, are anxious to have another chance. Morton has contacted local authorities to see if the game could be played on the Menlo diamond at night. Red believes that we have sufficient lighting and if seating can be arranged the game may be played here.

An all star game between the Sport Shop of Palo Alto and Redwood City all start will be played in Redwood City August 9. A second game will be played at Palo Alto and if a deciding game is needed, it may well be played on a neutral field at Menlo Park.

During the Peninsula championships, crowds of over three thousand flocked to Palo Alto to see the games. If Menlo Park can secure this type of play without interfering with uocal schedules, it will be a boon to the fans who don't play but who do enjoy a real game.

Ed Derry is the sponsor of a big bus trip slated for next Tueslay. A group of local sportsmen have chartered a bus and have purchased a block of seats in the Seals Stadium for next Tuesdays game between the Oaks and the Seals. We don't know if all the space is taken yet, but Ellis Simpson can furnish the details.

Bad Day For Town Team; Lose 12-7

The ghost of old purduka took over the ball yard last Sunday and Iru Dunne or Tom Casey know how foul a ghost of old purduka can be. Double plays skidded into the short patch ducked between legs and wound up as hits, freak flys dripped between outfielders, gloves had springs in the pockets and Menlo had a bad day. "Doc" Mason toiled up hill all the way and held a 3 to 7 lead until the fifth, when two errors and a hit with an overthrow tied the count. Menlo scored in the fifth to lead 4 to 3. Both clubs scored in the sixth and seventh and Menlo went into the eigth a run ahead. Stein replaced Mason in the box in the eigth and the Regals pounced on Freddie for two runs, a walk and a pair of errors, a triple and a dropped fly pushed 5 tallies across in the Regal half of the ninth, to ring up a total of 12 runs and 15 hite. Menlo scored 1 run in the ninth to rear up seven on 11 hits.

It appeared to the casual spectator as a rather poor contest but, for eight of the nine innings Menlo, despite its errors, might squeek out a win, but fate ruled them out and the ghost of purduka, having had a good haunt, may leave the lads alone next Sunday when they meet the strong Hugo Meats of San Francisco at 3:00 o'clock on the local field.

Mason had nine strike-outs and issued 1 walk; Stein, in two innings, walked 2 and garnered 1 strike-out. Courcio, winning Regal pitcher, struck out 6 and walked 4.

Teeny Masterson led Menlo's hitting with three for four, walkup had a good afternoon at bat, knocking in three runs, hitting three for five; Eldridge hit two in five times at bat; Mason collected 1 hit in two approaches.

Your City's Business

By Charles P. Burgess

Menlo Park is entering upon the second summer of the 10-year street repair program initiated by the City Council. Partridge, Creek Drive and San Mateo Drive (between Santa Cruz and Valparaiso) have just been resurfaced and extensive further work is laid out. To carry out the program a roller and a grader were purchased last Fall to add to the existing two trucks and an oiler. A sweeper will be acquired when an available one is located. The equipment is presently kept in inadequate rented quarters; much of it must stand out in the weather. The city must obtain satisfactory housing for these machines.

On the slice of land at Dibble General Hospital which the City Council wishes to acquire for a civic center, there is a building ideal for the use of the street and park department. One half of the building consists of five garages, each with a width of twelve feet and a depth of thirty feet. Clearance is about eight and a half feet. All of the street equipment would be accommodated with space to spare in these garages.

The balance of the building measures 30x60. At one side of the entrance is an office which can be used by the building inspector and the street and park superintendent. There are no partitions in the rest of the space, which can be used for storage of hand tools, parts, etc. Outside is a very large surfaced area which can be used for stockpiles of materials and sundry items. Thus, we have here an ideal corporation yard, one made to order for the city.

(Next week the community center building. Correction in last week's column: The proposed city hall is about 500, not 150, yards from the corner of El Camino and Ravenswood.)

LOCALITES ATTEND SAN CARLOS PARTY

A number of Menlo people were among the guests at a cocktail party, given Sunday at the San Carlos home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nash.

The affair was given to introduce the wife of the Nash's son, Francis Nash, whose marriage to Eleanor Douglas, took place in Atlanta, Georgia on June 8.

The groom, who was born in Menlo Park, was a Lieutenant, with four years service in the Navy. He was discharged recently.

The young couple will live in Redwood City where Nash is associated with the Redwood Material Company.

Menlo Man Fined For Battery

Found guilty of battery upon Mrs. Roy I. Tipton, 1836 College Avenue, Charles F. Hodge, 661 Live Oak Avenue, was fined $25 Tuesday morning by Judge John E. Springer of Palo Alto.

The complaint against Hodge was filed Monday afternoon following an argument in a tobacco shop on California Avenue. Mrs. Tipton charged Hodge with swearing, calling her names, and slapping her face after he demanded the return of clothing he asserted she was keeping until he paid her a sum of money she said he owed her.

'My Yank' To Be Read By Local Players Guild

After the business meeting, refreshments were served and a social evening enjoyed.

Saturday afternoon, August 3, a group of Guild members who are rehearsing under the direction of the Player's Guild director, Bob Bettencourt, will present reading of "My Yank," honor play of the year, written by Catherine Urban. This play will be discussed, following the reading, by selected critics and the audience. The reading will be given at Community Center in Palo Alto with the following cast; Betty Lomax, Cliff Mott, Vernon Barker, Jacquetta Scott, Helen Beach, Nellie McLoughlin, Letitia Eder and Dr. Louis Rothenberg.

An essay reading and presentation of original plays will be given on the same date and at 6:30 a buffet supper will be served.

Dramatists' Alliance, which is sponsoring the affair, asks that anyone wishing to attend, make reservations before July 30.

Drunks Arrested

Cases of drunkeness were reported to the Menlo Police Department over the week end. Two men were charged with driving while intoxicated and the third was booked for disturbing the peace.

D. W. Dodge, 20, 4049 El Camino was arrested by local police at 12:20 a.m. unday on charges of drunken driving after he drove his car into the rear of an automobile driven by Charles Dupee, 648 Roble Avenue, when the latter was slowing to make a turn onto Roble Avenue from El Camino.

Dodge was released on $250 bail, after having pleaded guilty and waiving preliminary hearing before Judge Edward Ryan in Menlo Park police court.

Dodge and Mrs. Frances Dupee, wife of the driver of the other car, received minor injuries and were treated at Palo Alto hospital.

Local Lad Held On Theft

On charges of stealing $20 from the pockets of soldiers' trousers in the bath house on the former Dibble hospital property Sunday and stealing a bicycle at Flood Park Monday, a 14-year-old Menlo Park boy was taken into custody by police. He will be turned over to the juvenile authorities, police said.

The youth bought a .22-caliber rifle at a Palo Alto hardware store Monday and then resold it to the store-owners Tuesday. Police believe that the boy had an accomplice, in both the stealing and the spending. The bicycle had been returned to its owner. No money was recovered.

Ravenswood Music Group To Meet This Afternoon

Music will be one of the first activities to get under way for the new term at the Ravenswood School which will open under new management early in September. Paul H. Henry, the new superintendent, is now at his desk Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Darrell Hayes, music instruction in the school, has called a meeting of sixth, seventh and eighth grade children interested in band and orchestra this afternoon at 2 in the school auditorium.

Mr. Hayes is anxious to meet boys and girls who want to take up band for orchestra for the first time, as well as those with a year or more of experience.

The new superintendent is dividing his time between graduate work at Stanford and preliminaries to the opening of school. He succeeded to the superintendency when the board refused to reappoint Roy Liddicoat, who had held the post for a number of years.

RICHFIELD GAS STATION HAS NEW MANAGER

According to Mr. Bell, he has the finest modern equipment to take care of automobiles and will give competent and courteous service. He will operate a pick-up and delivery service.

Bell spent over 2 years with the Seabees and saw action in the South Pacific. Until he entered the Seabees, Mr. Bell and his wife owned a home on Berkeley Avenue.

FALL FASHIONS

Fall fashions are casting their elegant shadows on August's calendar. Autumn trends turn toward the lush styles of fin de siecle modes: the richness of sable and mink as trims; the use of rare fabrics for cocktail and evening wear, damask and imported lace: and, with silhouettes showing a marked flare and (we do mean FLARE) for the full, full skirt of the robe de style for formal wear.

On August 5 localites will catch a glimpse of "things to come" in the fashion world when they attend the Fashion Show Luncheon at the Allied Arts Guild sponsored by the Palo Alto Junior Auxiliary of the Stanford Convalescent Home.

Modeling that day will be Mesdame Robert Ripley, Leander P. Hamilton, Charles Niebel, J. P. Jiosso, Donald Tiddy and Cyril Martineau.

Among those having reservations for the luncheon are Mesdames J. A. Mancini, Martha Ames, A. D. Bonell, J. Cotter, B. Marry, G. J. Tardy, Dean Hunter, R. Bossinger, A. Wood, A. Cameron, O. Von der Lieth, F. T. Dustenberry, T. Spivey, R. Stonehouse, R. Cathcart, L. Pryor, C. Spitzer, N. Jackson, Earl Alderman, Milton Siebert, Luther Haggerty, P. Bouquet, F. E. Johnstine, Thomas O'Brine, Ralph Thompson, B. Morgan, Elmer O'Connell, H. W. Bowers and the Misses Pat Neidig, Alta Wyatt and Jean McManus.

AUTUMN WEDDING

Plans for an early autumn wedding have been revealed by Margaret Hitchcock whose engagement to Douglas Carver was announced last month. Margaret returned last Friday from a visit in New York with her prospective in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nickels Carver.

The Woodside home of Margaret's mother, Mrs. Marshal Hale Fisher and Mr. Fisher, will be the setting for the September 7 nuptials. Following the 4:30 p.m. ceremony, which will be attended by immediate family members, there will be a large reception for the many friends of the young couple. Officiating at the ceremony will be Dr. George Hedley of Mills College.

As maid of honor Margaret will have a former Mills College classmate, Sally Van Sicklen, and bridesmaids will be Sheilah Moore of Pebble Beach and Jane Sontheimer of San Jose. Best man will be Douglas' brother, John Carver, with ushers to be named later.

The young couple plan to make their home in the East where Douglas, an ex-Navy officer is established in business.

Margaret, the daughter of the late Fremont Bodine Hitchcock of Chicago, has one brother, Peter Hitchcock. Margaret graduated from Mills College this June.

Douglas' grandparents were the late General Sir John Maxwell and Lady Maxwell of London. His brother, Clifford M. Carver's marriage to Madeline McDowell Smith, daughter of the Harold Smiths of Palo Alto, was an event of May 1945.

MILL VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Skare are visiting in Mill Valley, guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Winship.

SOUTHERN JAUNT

Dr. and Mrs. Norman D. Lussier returned last week from a stay at the Biltmore in Los Angeles. While South the Lussiers were entertained by Mrs. Lussier's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Terhaar.

CARMEL

There was a new version to the old shell game mastered by Michael and Stephen Brennan during their six weeks stay at Carmel. The small sons of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Brennan had a master competition to see who could collect "the mostest and the rarest" of the crusteceans on the white sands of Carmel's beach.

The Brennans who returned last Sunday were the guests of Mrs. Brennan's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Philip Haley.

NORTHERN TREK

A round of parties are preceding the departure for Canada of the T. Noel Blands. Last Sunday the Henry Beaumont Martins entertained with a dinner at their home in Woodside to honor the Blands. Mr. and Mrs. Wiliam Mackenzie gave an informal cocktail party on Saturday to compliment the travelers and Howard Connable was host at a dinner at his Woodside home.

Motoring North with the Blands to Banff and Lake Louise will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bundy. Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Bland's daughter, Kay, headed South to visit in Los Angeles for the month of August. On the Blands' return in September they will have a new address on Lloyden Avenue.

FROM HOLLAND

From Delft, Holland came Jan Talen, honor guest at a dinner party given at their home by Mr. and Mrs. James McLean Mullen. Last week Mr. Talen was a houseguest at the Mullen home.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. Mullen entertained with a luncheon at her home.

SUMMER VACATION

Summer vacation finds the family circle of the William Lowerys complete. At home are their daughter, Claire, student at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, and son, William Jr. who attends St. Joseph's Seminary at Mountain View.

ENGAGEMENT

Cocktail napkins inscribed with the names of the betrothed pair revealed the engagement of Marilyn Hill and Jack Darcy on July 14 at the open house at the home of Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Hill. The affair also was by way of a celebration of Marilyn's twentieth birthday.

Marilyn, a Castilleja graduate, finished at San Mateo Junior College. Her sister, Audrey, is a Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of Southern California.

Plans are for a November wedding.

EAST, WEST AND SOUTH

Summer days find members of Mrs. Evanglist Helfrich's family in the East, West and South. Loretta Helfrich is in Boston attending Boston College. Loretto, who graduated from Stanford, is working for a Master's Degree in medical social service.

Phil, a recent graduate of the San Mateo Maritime College, is enroute to Australia and Mary is visiting in Pasadena.

BOHEMIAN GROVE

Dr. C. H. Woolsey is off for the Bohemian Grove to attend the annual summer conclave of members.

At Lake Huntington is the Woolsey's daughter, Ruth, who took her horse and dog, and headed into the Sierras for a fortnight's stay of riding, swimming and fishing.

IN HONOR OF

Speaking of the Bohemian Grove, another localite who is taking part in the festivities there is Paul Browne. During Mr. Browne's stay at the Grove Mrs. Browne and daughter Patricia will make Carmel their headquarters. The Brownes, who will spend the month of August at their country home at Tahoe, entertained with a cocktail party last Saturday at their home in Woodside. The affair was in honor of their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. John Smoot of Darien, Connecticut.

TAHOE STAY

SUMMER GUESTS

There have been a series of summer guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glunz. June visitors were Mr. Glunz' mother, Mrs. Walter Glunz and the John W. Kennedys of Stockton. Early this month houseguests were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyns of San Francisco, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Glunz, and now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Glunz is Mrs. Glunz' mother, Mrs. Henry Storti of San Francisco.

"JOB DIVIDENDS" at General Electric

For the year 1945, $35,000,000 in addition to wages was spent by General Electric in extra benefits for employees

It isn't a new thing for General Electric to put more than money into pay envelopes for its employees.

"Job dividends"—these extras that G-E employees get in addition to wages—have a sound business reason. To be successful, a company must be efficient. A man with fewer worries can produce more efficiently, which makes further benefits possible.

Profit-sharing plans, relief and loan plans began over 10 years ago at General Electric. Life insurance for employees, cash for suggestions began over 20 years ago. Pension plans were started 33 years ago. And vacations with pay began 53 years ago.

Every employee has a stake in the future of General Electric. For out of its success—and only out of success—can come further advances in living standards. That is the aim of General Electric, not alone for its employees, but for the public, who gain by new and better products, continuously improved.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE to our Peninsula Commuters

In providing you with suburban train service on the San Francisco Peninsula we have faced, for some time, the problem of increased costs. It is a problem most of you have at home and in the operation of your own business.

In our case we haven't had a "raise in pay" as far as monthly and weekly commutation tickets are concerned, since Aug. 26, 1920, almost 26 years ago.

Our commutation service is an expensive one to provide and hasn't been profitable at any time.

And now, with very substantial wage increases granted by the government recently, and the increased costs for fuel oil and other items, the gap between income and outgo has grown still wider. This is an out-of-pocket loss, not considering overhead expense.

Since we do not wish to curtail service or let our service deteriorate, and we know you do not wish that either, the only remedy is to ask the California Railroad Commission to authorize an increase in commutation fares. We are making application to the Commission for a 20% increase in monthly and weekly commutation fares.

The increased wages and fuel oil prices have increased the costs of Peninsula service operation by about $18,000 a month since the first of this year. We estimate that the increases in revenue from the requested 20% increase, in monthly and weekly commutation fares, will bring in additional revenue of $14,000 a month, or less than our increased costs.

Our Peninsula commutation fares are considerably lower than the fares charged by railroads in other commuting zones, where the volume of traffic is much larger.

In view of this and other factors reviewed elsewhere in this advertisement, I believe you will agree that we have no alternative but to request the increased fares in question. We hope you will support our application before the Commission.

We are anxious to have our commuter friends and the residents of the Peninsula communities know the facts of our situation. We shall be glad to answer any questions you may have.

CLAUDE E. PETERSON
Vice President, System Passenger Traffic

PERTINENT FACTS about our commutation fares and revenues

SOUTHERN PACIFIC commutation fares have always been low, based on the policy of building up the territory. This goes back to the time of Leland Stanford, one of the Big Four who built the railroad, and former Governor of California. Shortly after the ferry business was taken over by Central Pacific, Stanford, then president of Southern Pacific, said he was "desirous of making it possible and easy for the working men and business men to live across the Bay, where they could acquire property cheaply, build homes, have more room and bring their children up in an out-of-door life." This low fare policy was followed not only in establishing fares for the East Bay suburban service but also for our service to Marin County and down the Peninsula. The East Bay and Marin County services, of course, have now been abandoned.

★

The present monthly commutation fares between San Francisco and San Jose were made effective August 26, 1920, nearly twenty-six years ago. The weekly commutation fares were established October 1, 1932, on a basis of one-fourth of the monthly commutation fare and these have also remained unchanged. You no doubt are familiar with the fact that passenger fares were increased generally, effective February 11, 1942; however, commutation fares were not increased at that time. All costs, such as wages, materials and supplies, have greatly increased in this twenty-six year period.

★

Over a period of years Southern Pacific has suffered large losses in one-way and round-trip Peninsula traffic due to improved highways and the competition of the private automobile and highway carriers. On the other hand our commutation traffic, moving at much lower fares, has steadily increased. The net result of this change in the character of our traffic has been to increase the volume of our traffic and the costs of operation without corresponding increase in revenue.

★

Southern Pacific's commutation fares are considerably lower than similar fares charged by other roads in eastern commutation zones where the volume of traffic is much greater. Here are some examples of new monthly commutation fares (daily except Sunday) as compared with nearest corresponding fares in other commutation zones:

	Railroad	One Way Mileage	Type of Commute	Present Fare	Proposed SP Fare

San Francisco-San Mateo . . . . . about 2½c per trip
San Francisco-Palo Alto . . . . . about 4c per trip

★

Southern Pacific's equipment and schedules compare favorably with those furnished in other suburban services over the country. The schedules are fast, and the cars are all-steel coaches. Schedules were recently revised and speeded up. We hope you have noticed that Southern Pacific is carrying out a program of refurbishing the cars. Cars are being repainted and re-upholstered at a cost of over $1,000 a car.

Present San Francisco — Menlo Park — Monthly (Ex. Sunday) Commutation Fare $10.30, Proposed $12.36. Increase About 4c Per Trip.

We are glad to report a bit of action on the softball situation the Post Office has posted a challenge to the Lion's Club to get the game going and after Mondays workout Postmaster Morey stated that with a little practice his club could overcome the Lion's Club advantage of having Chris Conner as score keeper. Chris has won every game for the Menlo J.C. faculty this year. "Sarg" Casey may officiate since no legal man dares handle the chore. Emil Pommes, the Shell dealer—busy rounding up a team to face the winner and the Firemen are entering a club in the Redwood City B division.

• • •

On the spectator side of the story it appears that Menlo may be able to secure a Palo Alto-Redwood City all-star contest about August 10. The Sport Shop is busy Lining up high class competition and Ravenswood is anxious to bring several teams in from San Francisco.

The Juniors will still be able to practice from 6 to 8:15 and the managers are in agreement that this will be or as far as they are concerned, we believe the sport fans will enjoy seeing these contests and the games will draw large crowds to Menlo Park.

• • •

Several citizens have broached the subject of seats and we have a suggestion that if the city would pay for the material we could get enough volunteers to put up the stands. It's sure a pity to see these fine Menlo teams playing before the blue sky and the dust of cars as they bring in their own seating—next Fall Max Melke is figuring on putting grass in the outfield for pioneers and players alike and so lets all work for some seats.

• • •

"Red" Moore will be back pitching for Las Lomitas in the second half of the Junior League. We hear Tony Juracich will pilot Ravenswood and the Menlo sections of the league plan to do a little up setting starting Sunday.

• • •

The Lion's Club had a swell picnic Sunday at Stevens Creek. The only casualty was Dick Crawford, who failed to heed a low bridge sign on a slide and skinned his nose. "Reg" McCrae was the "Dick Merriwell" of the day as he rescued a stray kid from the creek after a wild scramble. After finding the child was from another picnic group "Reg" wrung him out and herded him back to his own pasture.

CAIN-INE NEWS

The fire plug, Bill Cutter has in his Felton Gables yard, for the benefit of his wire hairs, had an orchid on it this week. At the Vallejo Kennel Club Show last Sunday, nine year old "Duke of Menlo" won blue and special ribbons and a cup, and Bill's youngster, nine month old "Battlehill Don" won a blue ribbon in the winners class. Don was working against his sire, "Battlehill Godfrey" who turned him back. When fully developed, Don will give his sire a closer contest for the honors. Local dog circles are all agog over the success of Duke and Don and a series of buffet luncheons are being planned for the boys just as soon as the markets open.

• • •

Jocko has been in a tither since his favorite markets are closed. I'm digging up stuff I buried during the depression," he moans and, "they just don't have the taste, the only mouthful of meat I've had is a whack at the garbage man and that cost me a set of sore ribs." —Things are just tough all over, Son!

NEWCOMERS

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Baker, former residents of Tacoma, Washington have bought a home in Woodside Glen and with their two children, John and Carol, will move in this week.

HOUSEGUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Petray have returned to their home in Santa Rosa after a week spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hebrank, 6 Tuscaloosa Avenue, Atherton.

NEWCOMERS

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bonnat and son, Billy, former residents of San Francisco, have bought a home at 827 Hobart Street and will take possession this week.

KAYLA LAYNE HO ST ATPARTY

Kayla Layne, daughter of Mrs. D. O. Layne, was hostess at her home, 60 Berkshire Avenue, Saturday night at a party at which her guests were classmates at McKinley School and friends from several peninsula towns.

Buffet refreshments were served and the guests enjoyed games and dancing.

Twenty-two guests were present.

SPEND SUNDAY AT CARMEL

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Flanagan motored to Carmel last Sunday and spent the day in the southern town.

Paula Flanagan says, that in spite of efforts of the townspeople, to the contrary, Carmel is becoming modernized; noticable principally in the garb of its residents. She says they saw very few artists in smocks, berets and flowing ties.

NEWCOMERS

Among the newcomers to Menlo Park, are Dr and Mrs. C. A. Saunders and their son, William, former residents of San Francisco.

The Saunders have purchased a home on Los Arboles Avenue and are already occupying their new residence.

Help provide food for all

It's time again to shop for lug-box bargains in fruits and berries. Either see your regular fruit dealer or drive out into the country and bring home several lug-boxes of the best buys in July and August.

It's time again to get down the empty fruit jars and jelly glasses and put up and store away home-canned fruits and berries. You'll help save food. You'll help increase shipments of food going out to relieve world famine.

It's time again to replant your home garden for fall crops. Good-eating favorites for planting at this time are beets, carrots, cauliflower, cabbage, broccoli, spinach, turnips, endive and lettuce. Can or store away your garden surplus.

Madeline Morey To Be Married

Madeline Morey will be maried to John Fischer at a Nuptial Mass, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Church of the Nativity. The Rev. Thomas McKeon will officiate at the service.

The bride will be escorted to the altar by her brother, John Morey and the best man will be Peter Bus and the best man will be Peter Bush.

Virginia Braden, the bride's cousin will be maid of honor and Rosemary Schick and Dorothy Abbott will be bridesmaids. Ushers will be Warren Morey, Albert Tullys and Rudi Friedman.

A reception in the garden of the bride's home on Emilie Drive, Atherton, will follow the wedding.

Saturday night, the bride-elect and her fiance were guests of honor at a garden party and barbecue dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bush at their home in Felton Gables, at which 20 guests were present.

Jack took the spotlight away from his fiancee, Sunday when he was guest of honor at a grocery shower, given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ferrara in Redwood City.

The shower was a complete surprise and Jack didn't know until he arrived at the Ferraro home, that he was to be "number one" man. From here on, he took over and this time, he, instead of Madeline, opened the presents.

Fifty guests were present and Jack was completely snowed under with groceries.

ROGERS FAMILY HOME FROM VACATION

The head of the family spent his time fishing and the young folks made a trip to the top of Mt. Lassen while Mrs. Rogers joined the armchair tourist brigade.

GAMBLE—A son was born July 23 in San Jose hospital to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gamble of Menlo Park. This is the first grandchild for Mr and Mrs. Bert C. Moody of Palo Alto. The baby has been named Walter Randolph. His father is in business in Menlo Park.

Church Services

EPA COMMUNITY CHURCH

The Reverend Donald F. Leahmann, pastor of the East Palo Alto Community Church, announces that on Sunday, July 28, the Reverend James E. Baker will speak to the Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. and will address the morning service at 11 a.m.

Reverend and Mrs. Baker, both of whom were born in China, are returning as soon as it is possible to obtain transportation. They will establish a Bible School and work among the tribespeople of Yunnan Province.

The Reverend Baker is the son of the Reverend H. A. Baker, well known missionary, who esatblished and conducted an orphanage in Yunnann Province. Reverend James Baker came to the United States at the age of twenty to complete his education and has been an instructor at the Central Bible School.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Rev. Paul H. Buchholz will be the guest speaker at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church. His theme will be "Chariots of God."

Dr. Buchholz was formerly a national missionary to the Spanish speaking peoples of the American Southwest, president of Dubuque University and executive secretary of the Presbytery of Detroit. At the present time he is doing graduate work in religious education at the University of California in Berkeley.

The anthem will be sung by The Treble Choir, under the direction of Helen Van Oterendorp.

All young people of the church and their friends are invited to meet at the church at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, July 28, for a picnic and camp fire meeting at Flood Park.

About People

last Monday to visit in Washington, D. C. with their son-in-law and daughter, the Patrick O'Briens (Barbara Wilson.) Before returning in late August the Wilsons will enjoy a N ew York stay and a trip through the New England States.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with Mr. and Mrs. Gerry O'Shea (Lois Wilson) spent last week at Mount Shasta.

LUNCHEON

PACK TRIP

Tomorrow Paul Diebels, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Kiebels, heads into the High Sierras with a group of friends for a fortnight's pack trip. Paul recently returned after serving in Panama as a Lieutenant with the U.S. Navy.

SWIM PARTY

Last Sunday Barbara Lee Rhea was hostess at a swim party and buffet supper in the gardens of the Frank Rice Shorts' estate in Atherton. Barbara, niece of Mrs. Short, is spending the summer months with the Shorts.

KLAMATH GLEN

Hiking, fishing, and swimming filled the three weeks spent at Klamath Glen by Mrs. Clarence E. Lerner and children, Linda and Jerry. The Lerners returned to their home in Atherton last weekend.

GARDEN PARTIES

The gardens of the home of Mrs. Henry Garton in East Palo Alto, were the setting for two parties. Last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Garton entertained the Women's Missionery Society of the East Palo Alto Community Church at tea following their regular July meeting.

On July 19 the Adult Christian Endeavor group met in the Garton gardens for a potluck supper.

LAKE TAHOE

It was a weekend of sun and swimming at Lake Tahoe for the Albert Monaghans, who were guests at the home of Mrs. Monaghans brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson. While Captain Monaghan, on terminal leave from the Army Air Corps, is enrolled at Stanford, the Monaghans are making their home in Menlo Park.

AT HOME

After a motor trip through the Pacific Northwest, with stays in Seattle, Portland, and Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Chappell returned last week to Menlo Park.

SUMMER VISITORS

Last week the Reginald Pratts had as their houseguests Mr. Pratt's sister and niece, Mrs. Ashley Bolce and Nancy Bolce of Oakland.

AT TAHOE

Spending the summer months at Lake Tahoe are Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Buck. Joining them next month will be Mrs. Buck's sister, Miss Olga Meyers

SUMMER LUNCHEON

Mid-August finds Menlo Park and Atherton smart in an ensemble of brilliant summertime gaieties with activities centering about swimming pools and tennis courts. Among the hostesses at the buffet luncheon at the Menlo Circus Club last Tuesday were Mrs. Arthur McCrystal, Mrs. Wilson Meyer, Mrs. Frederick Ortman Shumate, Mrs. William Mackenzie and Mrs. Harold Hamilton.

Taking top honors in the Junior Girls' Singles Tennis Tournament at the Club was Grace Gilmore who defeated Joan Weir.

YOSEMITE

The Herman Phlegers with their daughter, Ann, are enjoying a ten day stay at Yosemite.

NEWCOMERS

Newcomers to the young marrieds of Menlo Park will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Euphrat (Marian Green) who will move into their new home next month. The Euphrats whose marriage took place the end of June at the Atherton home of Marian's mother, Mrs. Jack Goldman, spent July in Coronado and Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Goldman's son, Captain William Green, just returned from Japan and will enter Stanford in the fall to complete his pre-medic course.

Dramatists' Alliance of Stanford University, an association formed to encourage young playwrights, has announced the prize-winning plays from its 11th annual series of competitions.

From the scores of entries coming from all sections of the United States and Canada, the judges have selected three outstanding plays which will be awarded the Miles Anderson, the Stephen Vincent Benet and the Henry David Gray awards.

MUSING & MEANDERING

Edna Crane-Burchfield

Congratulations to the person responsible for the new flag which flies over the Menlo Park City Hall. The old one was an eyesore. In all justice however, it must be admitted that it is almost impossible to keep the flag on the City Hall clean, as it hangs just at an angle where the wind slaps it against the balustrade on top of the building.

If the flag pole could clear the top of the building, it would be easier to keep the flag clean, but until that is done, we'll have to do the best we can—Several members of the Menlo Park Fire Department have taken turns at clipping the hedge back of the station and a beautiful job it is—straight as a ruler, not a leaf out of place—Chief George Carter says the boys use the top of the Recorder window as a birdseye line marker and adds that if our building ever sags, the hedge cutting will go on the bias—A blue ribbon should go to Clarence Fiske, 640 Live Oak Avenue, for the gorgeously beautiful hydrangeas growing at the side of his house. Passers-by stand in amazed admiration at the number and size of the blooms and speaking of hydrangeas, Fred Schindler, former gardener at St. Patrick's Seminary, brought some hydrangeas into our office the other day that measured 18 inches across each flower — A Magnolia tree in full bloom on the main business block on El Camino in front of the Patterson house — George Ullman walking through town with Kip Morey's little black and white cocker spaniel on a leash, George taking care of the pup for Kip and the dog getting fonder of George every day—Our social editor, "Portia's" small son , Sandy answering the telephone—a call for his mother while he waits for her to get to the phone, Sandy goes into a Cook's tourist monologue—"Yes, mother is home, she's in the kitchen, now she's coming through the dining into the living room and here she is." The other day, a local clergyman called—"Is mother home?" said Sandy, "I'll say she is—she's in the bathtub—oh brother, you ought to see her!" Portia says she can generally handle Sandy's conversational gymnastics if she is present, it is when Sandy is on his own, that her hair sands on end.

* * *

News came over the radio this week of the death at 76, of Ray Stannard Baker. There were probably a few persons in the United States, who remembered him as the author of a biography, the "Life of Woodrow Wilson." (and a duller book, I never read.) But there must have been literally thousands of people all over the world, who will also remember him as the "David Grayson," who wrote a number of delightful books—'A'dventures in Contentment," "Adventures in Friendship," "The Countryman's Year" and others.

Baker's story was an unusual and a strange one. From early manhood until his early forties, he was a city dweller, caught in the vortex of politics. He spent years of painstaking research on the Wilson biography and ended with a book that was read by very few, (as readers go,) and that soon sank into the limbo of second-hand book store material.

His health cracked and he suffered a terrific nervous break-down. It was either get out of big cities or die—so Baker bought a farm in Connecticut, where in complete quiet, a year of rest restored his shattered health.

A natural born scribber, Baker wrote, a book about his farm and his nighbors, more to occupy himself than for any thought of sales—Several persons who read the manuscript, urged him to publish it and he rather reluctantly did so, signing the pseudonym, "David Grayson" and it is by this name that he will be remembered. The books went into numerous editions and were sold by the thousands.

As his strength returned, Baker began to really work on his farm and the time came when he was able to work in the fields and orchards with men who had been born on a farm. He became an expert in handling bees and sold his own honey as well as other products of his farm in the village near his home.

A story like this almost always brings up the question—"Country versus City Life." It can never be settled, because of the difference in people. It's like the musical controversy, "classical music versus jazz" and "old masters versus Henri Matisse."

Every man to his taste and justly so.

Some men must live in cities and others in the country and if each likes his own life, so much the better. But unfortunate is the man who is unhappy in his surroundings.

I think, however, there can be no happier man in the world, than one who lives in the country and loves it.

I wouldn't live in a big city if I got an hotel pent house, rent free. I wouldn't trade my little home for all the apartments in the world. I know what I'm talking about too, because I lived in apartments in San Francisco for almost twenty years.

My home (if you could call it a home) was a concrete and steel cage. I rode upstairs in a cage, I rode downtown in a cage and I hated it. People lived in other cages under me, above me and on two sides of me. The view from my kitchen window was a tin light shaft, the bottom of which was covered with safety razor blades.

I lived in one apartment for five years and never saw my neighbors (I used the word neighbors advisedly) unless I met them in the hallways. We never spoke.

I was requested by the house manager, not to play my piano after 9 o'clock at night—it disturbed the tenants upstairs and later I was asked not to play it during the daytime as it disturbed the tenant downstairs, who was a night nurse and wanted to sleep all day. I was really stymied. I couldn't plant any flowers and I wasn't allowed to have any pets. I was somewhat in the same position as the woman who said that everything she liked, was "illegal, immoral or fattening."

After fifteen years of this squirrelish existence, in sheer desperation, I bought a home in what was laughingly referred to in the city ordinance, as "restricted residential section" and spent five years huddled over a gas stove, trying to get the fog out of my system.

Oh no—no more large cities for me. They can have their skyscrapers and their department stores and their crowds on the streets. I'll live where I can call the firemen and policemen by their first names—where, if I get in a jam, I can yell for help from the first person I see—and get it.

BRIEFS... by Portia

It may not be crammed with social significance but there is a PROBLEM before the house, setting a chime clock that has come to a full stop! Even top-drawer scientists, masters of atomic know-how, pale at the thought of tackling the dilly of a dilemma, "How to synchronize a chime with Old Father Time."

Yesterday, the clock (ours) ceased to make with the ticks. A little something escaping notice until nine hours later when rigor mortis had set in. Then, though the lilting voice of the PT&T's fugitive from The Met proclaimed the hour as "One-fifty-five and three-quarters," the hands of the weary Seth Thomas stubbornly pointed to five. Strikes are old stuff but the clock had a new angle, a strike against striking. This indicated giving the little clock a hand, which is when I went round-and-round with the minute hand.

After "having a tintinnabulating-time-wish-you-were-there," came the discovery that though the hands had stopped at five, the chime (due to a vitamin deficiency or something) had succumbed to mid-day fatigue. The net result with the clock set at two, the chime gave with nine sour notes. "No problem, that," I naively thought, "just set back the hands to nine-fifteen and they'll meet the chimes on common ground." In a spirit of gay abandon I reversed my field. Silly girl! Mother always said there's no going back. How right she was! With hands at a horizontal nine-fifteen the chime went into the three-quarter hour routine. What three-quarter hour? Brother, at that moment your guess would have been as good as mine. I never knew until the big hand made with a down beat at six. Then the clock proceeded to count to ten, something I should have done before racing my motor.

This had me trying to catch up with Time by twirling the minute hand around, but fast. I had heard "Time marches on," and on the double at that, but right then I discovered there was as much chance to by-pass a few hours as to by-pass a traffic tag. No matter how the hands were whirled they always overshot the target. Of course there is the law of averages and once when the thing showed nine it really chimed nine notes but come ten o'clock the family heirloom gave an apologetic cough, whirred, trembled on the mantel like a delayed action bomb, and slyly erased all satisfaction by sounding four bells! Melodic notes straight from the overture of "The Chimes of Normandy"—all that was missing was a program note, "Enter peasants dancing."

That was where I'd come in and so—I've taken to code signals. The double breakdown reveals that when the chime strikes five o'clock I rightfully surmise it is nine o'clock and when there are eleven peals (strictly musical and nothing you'd care to use in marmelaide even if you had the sugar) it is either three o'clock in the morning and fortunately I am asleep, or three o'clock in the afternoon and luckily the hour to pick up Junior at the swimming pool.

Well, there's always the sundial which isn't wired for sound (and a good thing, too!)

Veterans' News

Veterans in California, Nevada and Arizona may choose among a wide range of apprentice and on-the-job training programs under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

More than 9,000 firms in California, nearly 150 in Nevada, and 4,000 in Arizona are cooperating.

Training programs are approved jointly by the Veterans Administration and the state in which it operates.

Veterans training on-the-job are paid subsistence allowances by the government in addition to their apprentice pay, so long as both together do not exceed the journeyman wage in the trade.

Question: I want to apprentice in the building trade. Can you tell me how to go about it?

Answer: You must first obtain an eligibility certificate from the Veterans Administration. You may then apply for apprentice training to any firm which is approved by the state. If the particular firm for which you wish to work is not approved, it may apply for approval to the division of apprenticeship standards or similar agency of the state in which it operates.

Question: I have a certificate of eligibility and intend to begin college this fall. In the meantime, I want to work as an apprentice in an accounting office. Am I entitled to subsistence pay while working in the accounting office and will it affect my eligibility to go to college.

Answer: You are entitled to subsistence pay while working in the accounting office if the firm and the course of training you are to pursue are approved by the appropriate state agency. If you are single you may receive up to $65 a month from the government, $90 if married. However, your salary plus your subsistence pay cannot exceed the pay of the job for which you are training. That final salary is set at the time your program is approved. The time spent in this training will be deducted from your total eligibility time. If you are entitled to two and a half years of schooling and use six months of it as a trainee in the accounting office, you will be eligible for two years in college, pursuing the same general educational objective. Any major changes in your course, however, must be cleared with the VA. In any event, you will need a supplemental certificate of eligibility from the VA to present to the college when you register.

Question: May I transfer from one apprenticeship program to another?

Answer: Yes, with the approval of the Veterans Administration. You will require a supplemental certificate of eligibility which may be obtained from the VA if the change is approved.

IN ADDITION TO COLUMN ONE OF THE ABOVE:
20% Increase for Service Overseas.
50% Increase if Member of Flying or Glider Crews.
5% Increase in Pay for Each 3 Years of Service.

Highlights of Regular Army Enlistment

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (One-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 90 days after last honorable discharge.
4. Up to 90 days' reenlistment furlough with pay, depending on length of service, with prescribed travel allowance paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who reenlist.
5. Consult your Army Recruiting Officer for other furlough privileges.
6. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
7. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. (Retirement income in grade of Master or First Sergeant up to $185.63 per month for life.) All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
8. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights assured for men who enlist on or before October 5, 1946.
9. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

MONTGOMERY WARD

NO NEWS ON BOOSTS IN SM OFFICIALS' PAY

Despite pressure for immediate action, San Mateo county elective officials won't know until today whether or not their petition for salary raises will be granted by the supervisors.

Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds last Monday afternoon at the board meeting moved that the salary increases—providing raises for as much as $1,500 a year—be given to all. The motion died for want of a second.

After an hour of heated discussion by the board, Chairman Edward R. McDonald adjourned the meeting until today at 10 a.m.

County Clerk William H. Augustus, back on the job following a week's illness, was instructed to find out the salaries of comparable elective officials in other counties.

REAR ADMIRAL SETTLE RETURNS HOME

Rear Admiral T. G. Settle has returned to his home, San Mateo Drive, from the 7th Fleet in China waters and will leave this week for the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, New Jersey, where he will head the Naval Airship Training and Experimental Command.

Subscribe To The Recorder.

RETURNS HOME

Ensign John J. Garland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Garland of Menlo Park, has returned home after his discharge from the Navy.

He is enrolled at Stanford for the Fall term in the graduate school of engineering.

En route home Garland visited industrial plants in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Detroit.

He also stopped in Wisconsin to visit relatives.
